A Company Built on Quality & Craftsmanship

Home Elevators & Lift Products LLC is a Carolina-based designer, manufacturer, installer, and service provider of residential elevators and specialty lift solutions. We specialize exclusively in residential applications, allowing us to focus on what homeowners actually need: dependable systems, thoughtful design, and long-term reliability.

Headquartered in Sunset Beach, North Carolina, with manufacturing operations in Conway, South Carolina, our products are proudly designed and built in the USA. Keeping our design, fabrication, and service operations close allows us to maintain strict quality control, respond quickly to customer needs, and stand behind every system we install.

We work directly with homeowners, builders, and contractors throughout the Carolinas and surrounding regions, providing personalized guidance from the earliest planning stages through installation and ongoing service. Our goal is not simply to sell equipment. It is to provide solutions that make homes safer, easier to navigate, and more livable for the long term.

Our Approach

We take a practical, straightforward approach to residential elevators and lifts.

Every home is different, and every customer's needs are different.
That is why we begin every project by listening.

Before recommending a system, we take time to understand:

How your home is laid out

How the space is used daily

Who will be using the elevator or lift

What are your long-term plans for the home

Our Manufacturing

We believe quality begins at the source. That is why Home Elevators & Lift Products LLC designs and manufactures its equipment in-house at our manufacturing facility in Conway, South Carolina.

By controlling the manufacturing process, we maintain higher standards, tighter tolerances, and consistent build quality across every elevator and lift system we produce. Our facility is staffed by skilled fabricators and technicians who specialize in residential elevator and lift construction, not mass-produced, one-size-fits-all equipment.

- Built in-house by our team: Every elevator and lift is manufactured in our Carolina facility, giving us complete control over quality from start to finish.
- Consistent craftsmanship: Our experienced technicians fabricate, assemble, and test each unit with care. Nothing is outsourced.
- Reliable materials: We use durable, industry-proven components sourced from reputable U.S. suppliers.
- Better communication: With manufacturing, engineering, and service under one roof, you get clearer answers and quicker solutions.
- Shorter lead times: In-house production helps keep projects moving and reduces long waits for parts or installations.
- Support from the people who built it: When questions come up, you speak directly with the team that knows your equipment inside and out.
